

OVERSIGHT TRAINING PROGRAM

What is it?

The Levin Center for Oversight and Democracy launched the State Oversight Academy (SOA) in March 2023 to build a national community dedicated to advancing bipartisan, fact-based oversight at the state level. Our online Oversight Training Program brings an in-depth SOA workshop to you on demand!

What will I learn?

Over nine courses, you will learn how to conduct an in-depth oversight investigation using the six avenues of oversight (analytic bureaucracies, committees, appropriations, administrative rule review, advice and consent, and contract monitoring). Each lesson will include an instructional video (typically 20 to 40 minutes long), interviews with practitioners and academics, examples of best practices in the states, and a short assignment to explore how you can apply the lesson in your legislature.

How do I enroll?

The SOA Oversight Training Program will launch February 5, 2025, and we are offering the program FREE to those who enroll in the first six months and provide feedback! You can register on our website and will be enrolled in the classroom, where you will have access to all the resources. You can complete the program at your own pace! Upon completion, you will receive a certificate and micro credentials that can be added to your LinkedIn profile or other websites.
